MYERSMCRÆE
EXECUTIVE SEARCH AND CONSULTING

The Broward College District Board of Trustees is seeking a capable and experienced executive and administrator to serve as the next President and Chief Executive Officer. The selected candidate should have a proven track record of leadership in a public institution. The President will be responsible for overseeing all operations and services to ensure the achievement of the strategic plan, mission, vision, and goals. The appointment for this executive position will be effective from July 1, 2024.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Established in 1960, the mission of Broward College is to achieve student success by developing informed and creative students capable of contributing to a knowledge and service-based global society.

As a public college accredited to offer associate degrees, select baccalaureate degrees, and certificate programs, the institution and its District Board of Trustees are committed to fostering a learning-centered community that celebrates empowering and engaging students, faculty and staff.

With approximately 50,000 students and 4,000 faculty and staff, Broward College offers 167 programs in eight career pathways that include specialized certificates, two- and four-year degrees, non-degree training, workforce readiness, and an extensive list of continuing education curricula. A 2020 Florida TaxWatch study reported that Broward College substantially increases the earnings of its graduates (total income to workers within the most recent year of graduates estimated to improve by $1.2 billion per year), gives students the best return on investment (nearly 10 percent), and provides substantial economic impact to South Florida (more than $1.7 billion).

In 2023, the Aspen Institute named Broward College one of the top 10 community colleges among more than 1,000 community and state colleges in the nation. This marks the fifth time the College has earned recognition as a top 10 finalist for the Aspen Prize for Community College Excellence.

Broward College is also the recipient of a transformational gift of $30 million from philanthropist MacKenzie Scott, who made the donation along with her husband, Dan Jewett.

Board of Trustees

The Broward College District Board of Trustees brings together community leaders who provide dedicated leadership to the College and its activities. The Governor of the State of Florida appoints this group of outstanding local citizens. As the governing board of the College, they are the stewards of Broward College's commitment to excellence, while they guide the College and implement the goals enumerated in their mission statement. Their desire to provide students with the academic skills needed to transfer to four-year colleges and universities, to enhance skills to be competitive in the rapidly changing job market, and to offer opportunities for continuing education, personal growth, and enrichment is a challenge they approach with enthusiasm. As a team, these community leaders are fully engaged in providing a future that offers increased higher education opportunities for Broward County residents.

Broward College Foundation

Established in 1971, the Broward College Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization and the officially designated means of making private, charitable contributions to Broward College. Our purpose is to change lives through education by providing community awareness, advocacy, and funding to the college.

The foundation's volunteer Board of Directors works closely with the college's Office of Advancement to raise money to support scholarships, academic programs, and learning facility enhancements.

We believe providing the opportunity education makes possible, to those who can benefit from it the most, is crucial to our community's future.

Broward College is made up of three primary campuses, which are connected to additional partnership centers, or branches, throughout Broward County.

A. HUGH ADAMS CENTRAL CAMPUS

The A. Hugh Adams Central Campus, the college's first permanent campus, is in Davie. Originally opened with seven buildings on a 152-acre site, the Adams campus is now home to the Buehler Planetarium and Observatory; Institute of Public Safety, a gold LEED-certified facility for the training of new and veteran law enforcement officers; the Mayer Gymnasium; and a health sciences complex that includes a simulation center. The campus also features the Ralph R. Bailey Concert Hall and a visual and performing arts facility. The facility also houses the Rosemary Duffy Larson Gallery. Nearby is the Fine Arts Theatre, a 175-seat venue reserved exclusively for student theatrical productions. The University College Library there is a joint research facility owned by the college in partnership with Florida Atlantic University. The Adams Campus also is home to the College Academy @ BC, a collegiate high school opened in partnership with the Broward County Public Schools in 2001.

JUDSON A. SAMUELS SOUTH CAMPUS

The Judson A. Samuels South Campus, named for a South Broward community leader and one of the college's most influential trustees, is on a 103-acre tract in Pembroke Pines, just west of Florida's Turnpike. The campus is home to the college's Aviation Institute, located adjacent to North Perry Airport, as well as the joint-use Broward College/Broward County South Regional Library. The library is the first building in Broward County constructed to meet the standards of the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design's (LEED) building rating system, set by the U.S. Green Building Council. Samuels South Campus has three partnership branches, including Pines Center, Miramar Town Center, and Miramar West Center.

NORTH CAMPUS

The North Campus, in Coconut Creek, covers approximately 113 acres adjacent to the Florida Turnpike. Dedicated in 1972, North Campus has grown to more than a dozen buildings including the Omni Auditorium, Health Science Center II, the Toski-Battersby Golf Training Center and the Broward College/North Regional Broward County Library. It houses the Junior Achievement Huizenga Enterprise Village, named after Broward County entrepreneur and philanthropist Wayne Huizenga. North Campus also houses the college's manufacturing program and the Citrix IT Academy, part of the Citrix Academic Network.

THE OPPORTUNITY

This presidency provides an excellent leadership opportunity for a well-experienced executive administrator with proven public institution experience to advance this college. The new president will have an opportunity to expand academic and workforce programs to meet the region's growing economic demands.

The College seeks a strategic visionary with the experience and ability to integrate with the external constituents of the college, e.g., the local business community and state government. They must inspire excellence in others and bring exceptional experience and enthusiasm for leadership within and beyond the walls of the college.

The President serves as the chief executive officer of the College and corporate secretary of the Board of Trustees (BOT), acknowledging that the BOT has oversight on the vision, policy, and planning for the College. The President carries out duties and responsibilities assigned by the Board of Trustees, by law, and by State Board of Education rules. Responsible for the operation and administration of the College, the president has a leadership team of College Vice Presidents and other key administrators.

With a focus on continuous improvement and sustainability, the President will be a problem-solver, a listener, and an innovator. This officer will be an advocate for the growth of academic and certificate programs and for the continuing professional development of faculty and staff. As the chief executive officer, the President will foster and steward the College's mission.

A confident and perceptive administrator who can make difficult decisions and pursue strategic courses of action, the President will work collaboratively with others, internally and externally, finding common ground among diverse viewpoints. The President will value the contributions of faculty and staff while seeking to advance the College's mission and goals to new levels.

The President will understand the significant role the institution plays in the community at large and will have an active presence in the community promoting partnerships, seeking support, and developing relationships that benefit the College, its students, and its employees. This officer will also be visible and active on all campuses.
